Results of Operations

For the six months ended June 30, 2022, the net asset value of the Fund for pricing purposes was $10.86 (class A) and $11.31 (class F) per unit compared to $12.63 (class A) and $13.09 (class F) per unit at December 31, 2021.

For more detailed information on the investment returns, please see the Annual Total Return bar graph.

For the six months ended June 30, 2022, the fund had a return of -12.43% net of fees of 1.06% (annualized) while the FTSE/TMX Universe Bond Index had a return of -12.23%. Returns were skewed towards higher rated corporates and shorter duration issues as the inflation rate has been higher with economies reopening. The uncertainty whether higher inflation rates will be more persistent has created overall market volatility. Due to the Covid induced economic deflation the fund is more defensively positioned with lower exposure to long term bonds. The Bank of Canada has already raised rates 225 bp so far this year.

Recent Developments

It was a very challenging first half of 2022 as elevated inflation rates resulted in both the US Federal reserve and the Bank of Canada raising rates by 225 bp each so far this year. Supply chain disruptions continue to persist, with further bottlenecks developing as a result of the war in Ukraine. With no resolution in the near term, the market has been in search for clarity in terms of a timeline for global central banks ending their tightening bias. Corporate bonds continue to perform well in this environment as they provide an additional yield over very low yielding Government bonds.

Ridgewood Canadian Bond Fund

Management Report of Fund Performance

For the six months ended June 30, 2022

- (1) This information is provided as at June 30 of the period and December 31 of the year shown.
- (2) Management expense ratio is the ratio of all fees and expenses, including harmonized sales taxes but excluding transaction fees charged to the Fund to the average net assets. It is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period.
- (3) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio adviser manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a Fund.
- (4) Net Asset Value per unit is the difference between the aggregate value of the assets of the Fund and the aggregate value of the liabilities and including the valuation of securities at closing prices divided by the number of units then outstanding.

Management Fees

Ridgewood Capital Asset Management Inc. (the "Manager") is entitled to an annual management fee payable out of the assets of the Fund. The fee is accrued daily and payable monthly out of the assets of the Fund. Services received under the Master Declaration of Trust include managing or arranging for the management of the Fund's investment portfolio and providing or arranging for all required administrative services to the Fund.
