Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Results of Operations

For the six months ended June 30, 2024, the net asset value of the Fund for pricing purposes was $10.64 (class A) and $11.34 (class F) per unit compared to $10.72 (class A) and $11.36 (class F) per unit as at December 31, 2023.

For more detailed information on the investment returns, please see the Annual Total Return bar graph.

For the six months ended June 30, 2024, the fund had a return of 1.23% net of fees of 1.00% (annualized) while the FTSE/TMX Universe Bond Index had a return of -0.38%. Securitization and Real Estate bonds were the top performers, returning 2.52% and 2.49% respectively. The uncertainty of when monetary easing would begin and how aggressive central banks will act created overall market volatility. Given expectations that rates are at cycle highs, the fund has shifted away from a defensive position; duration is still shorter vs the benchmark. The Bank of Canada has already cut rates 25 bp so far this year and the current market expectation are that there will be further decreases into the end of the year.

Recent Developments

It has been an eventful first half of 2024 as during the first several months markets were eagerly waiting for rate cuts from the US Federal reserve and the Bank of Canada. During this period, it became clear that the economic data had yet to support an easing of monetary conditions. The economy was slowing, and rate cuts were on the horizon, but timing was further delayed. At the end of the first half of 2024, the US Federal reserve had yet to lower the FED funds rate which is currently 5.50%. Meanwhile, the Bank of Canada waited until June 5, 2024, to start easing monetary conditions with a 25 bps rate reduction to bring rates to 4.75%. Corporate bonds continue to perform well in this environment as they provide an additional yield over lower yielding Government bonds.

⁽²⁾ Total increase (decrease) from operations consists of interest revenue, realized and unrealized gains (losses), less expenses, and is calculated based on the weighted average number of units outstanding during the period. The schedule is not intended to total to the ending net assets as calculations are based on the weighted average number of units outstanding during the period.

⁽²⁾ Management expense ratio is the ratio of all fees and expenses, including harmonized sales taxes but excluding transaction fees charged to the Fund to the average net assets.

⁽³⁾ The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio adviser manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a Fund.

⁽⁴⁾ Net Asset Value per unit is the difference between the aggregate value of the assets of the Fund and the aggregate value of the liabilities and including the valuation of securities at closing prices divided by the number of units then outstanding.
